Dear Sir: Being engaged on a discourse for Sunday, connected with Pisa Island troubles, I beg to ask if you can give me an estimate of the damage done to the local industries. As I am a heavy figure in the papers, but do not know what they are worth.

Mr. Johnson's reply says: The figures given of the damage done have not been overestimated in the press, as far as I have seen, and I have carefully examined the papers. The damage done to the local industries is a heavy figure in the papers, but do not know what they are worth.

CHOLERA ABATING ABROAD.

REASSURING REPORTS FROM THE PLAGUE CENTERS OF EUROPE.

A Lesson for New York in the Report of Hamburg's Health Board—Unsanitary and Complete Disregard of Sanitary Regulations Are Responsible for the Spread of the Disease in the Stricken City.

HAMBURG, Sept. 16.—The Board of Health has just finished an investigation of the tenement districts of Hamm, Horn, Barmbeck, and Hammerbrook. A member of the investigating commission says that ever since the outbreak of the plague the people in these districts have defied every law of sanitation. Hardly a tenement house was found in the four suburbs where any sanitary conveniences whatever had been provided by the landlord.

Since the severity of employment has been the cause of the plague, the people in these houses have only had vegetables and refuse meat to eat. After deaths from cholera they have neglected to use any of the disinfecting materials delivered to them, and have out on dead men's clothes before sanitary officials could get to the work. The people in these localities have constituted consequently two-thirds of the victims of the plague and are still filling the hospitals with their sick.

There are fresh evidences daily of a revival of the disease everywhere, except in the harbor district. There all the houses are small, and remain perfectly dark. About 150 people came back to the city today from the seaside resorts, to which they fled when the plague was at its worst.

The air today has been humid and oppressive. The people in the harbor district have been suffering from cholera since the first day of the outbreak. The people in the harbor district have been suffering from cholera since the first day of the outbreak.
